Headline:
Cloudy with rain, heavy in east.

Today:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain, persistent and heaviest across Caithness, Easter Ross, Inverness and the northern Great Glen where surface water may affect some roads. Rain generally lighter and patchier across the Western Isles and Lochaber. Occasionally strong northerly winds. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Mostly cloudy with outbreaks of rain through the evening, the rain turning more showery overnight, still with some heavy bursts around. Some clearer spells developing, especially towards the west coast. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
A brighter day with sunny spells developing but still some occasionally heavy showers, especially across eastern parts. Northerly winds slowly easing. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
A few showers in the east Wednesday, otherwise dry with sunny spells. Remaining dry with sunny spells Thursday but Friday looks cloudier with outbreaks of mainly light rain.
